

Human Activities Could Bring Big Weather Changes

LIVERMORE, Calif. (AP) — A University of California research team says man's activities could have a radical effect on the earth's climate, ranging from making the world warmer to making it cold enough to set off a new ice age.

The team's computer experiments at UC's Lawrence Livermore Laboratory show that current efforts at widespread clearing of tropical jungles could cause temperatures to drop and rainfall to decrease around the planet.

World-wide average temperatures would drop about a third of a degree if widespread tropical vegetation is stripped and more open land uncovered, the researchers said. That may seem insignificant, they pointed out, but in Iceland it was less than a degree and a half down from statistically normal temperatures that generated a "little ice age" that froze Europe 300 years ago.

The experiments also show, however, that loading the atmosphere with carbon dioxide through continued burning of such fossil fuels as coal and oil, tends to make earth warmer, the team reported in the British scientific journal Nature.

Now, the researchers said, the world's average temperature is only seven to 10 degrees warmer than it was 5,000 years ago — when the great ice age covered most of the northern hemisphere.

They reasoned that since green equatorial jungles absorb the sun's warming rays and keep the atmosphere moist, clearing jungles would reflect the sun's energy back to space and cause less recycling of moisture warming.

As a result, they said, rainfall would decrease by a halfinch a year in the north temperate zone and as much as eight inches a year at the equator.

The scientists stressed that while computer models are fallible, the trends up or down are likely to prove correct.

Meteorologist Hugh W. Ellisasser, a member of the group, said the changes in global climate from widespread jungle clearing would be counterbalanced by the continued burning of fossil fuels.

Ellisasser said that if the pace of fossil fuel burning continues to rise in the next century, many scientists believe the pileup of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere would double, causing temperatures to rise by at least 2½ degrees.

Were it not for that warming influence, he said, jungle clearing might well be enough to trigger expansion of the polar ice caps and start a new ice age.

The researchers conceded that their conclusions are highly speculative, but they claimed that major changes are actually occurring in earth's climate now, and they can be measured precisely.

From 1890 to 1940, they said, average temperatures in the northern hemisphere rose more than a degree as the earth warmed, but since 1940 the northern temperatures have dropped nearly three-quarters of a degree, and the down-trend continues.

Minimum Wage Rises January 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — Millions of America's lowest-paid workers will be eligible for immediate pay raises when the federal minimum wage law jumps to $2.30 per hour on New Year's Day.

The Labor Department said Thursday that nearly four million workers will be eligible for the pay raises. Included are farm workers, domestics, local government employees and retail clerks.

Ford Rests Over Holiday In Colorado

VAIL, Colo. (AP) — President Ford says he plans to tackle a ration of official business before spending more time on the ski slopes at this Rocky Mountain resort.

The President helped his family demolish a 22-pound Christmas turkey on Thursday. Then, with about four inches of fresh powder snow on the ground, he spent some three hours on the slopes, winding up somewhat out of breath and confessing he was tired.

"It was hard work today," he told reporters. But he added that he felt great.

Press Secretary Ron Nessen said Ford would begin receiving today the analyses of 19 bills passed by Congress in the final days of the 1975 session. The bills are awaiting Ford's signature. The bills were studied by his counsel's office back in Washington.

On one of his final runs down Vail Mountain on Thursday, the President said he expected to spend about three hours a day handling bills and other business before he returns to the White House next Tuesday.

Newsmen and photographers were posted at intervals down one of the intermediate trails on the 11,000-foot mountain for a Christmas look at the President's skiing technique. Three reporters also were allowed to ski part of the way with him and they jointly concluded he rates as an advanced intermediate skier.

Ford himself reported he's doing better than ever before, that he wasn't winded and that his legs were in good shape. But the President was doing some huffing and puffing as he pulled up beside one group of reporters.

VAIL, Colo. (AP) — President Ford's change of position on three key bills last week indicates the conservative wing of the Republican party is having success in worrying him about his political image.

The President signed the energy and tax cut extension bills and said he will veto a "common site" picketing bill — all actions opposite to what he had said earlier he would do.

As time for decision neared on each measure, Ford was subjected to extreme pressure from many groups, but especially from within his own Republican party.

Administration sources say pressure on the President ranged from intimations from party conservatives that he could lose political support to his GOP challenger, Ronald Reagan, to outright financial pressure in which contributors pointedly showed they could and would withhold funds from the Ford campaign.

Reagan, the former California governor seeking to take the GOP presidential nomination away from Ford, urged veto of all three of the con-

Christmas Day tornadoes, bulldozing through parts of the Florida Panhandle, left four people hospitalized and other local residents patching up their damaged homes.

Tornadoes also hit the southwest corner of Alabama, but the only weather-related injury reported from that state occurred when the gusty winds of a thunderstorm destroyed a trailer home near Dothan.

There was also a tornado in northeastern South Carolina early this morning.

Two of the Florida twisters hit the south end of Okaloosa County. The injured were rescued from overturned mobile homes and taken to a local hospital. Civil Defense officials said their conditions ranged from critical to good.

In much of the rest of the nation, Christmas ended wet and cloudy.

Overnight rainshowers in the Northwest became snow in the higher elevations. Snow was scattered from the upper Mississippi and Ohio valleys through the Northeast. It was freezing rain in the middle Mississippi and lower Ohio valley. There were rainshowers and thunderstorms from the lower Appalachians to the Louisiana delta and the southeastern portion of the nation.

Heavy snow warnings were in effect this morning for portions of lower

Violence Mars Yule Holiday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

For millions around the world, Christmas was the quiet, traditional holiday of gift giving, church and a day at home. But the holiday, like any other day, also had its extremes of joy and sorrow.

In East Vincent Township, Pa., five persons, including three children, were found slain in their home on Christmas morning. In Tennessee, four persons were killed and two wounded in a gun battle.

Another four persons were killed in an apparent robbery in a furniture store in Florida on Christmas Eve. More than 100 died in automobile accidents during the holiday.

In Bayonne, N.J., two persons were killed in a fire early Christmas Day. A blaze Christmas Eve took the lives of three children in Cheltenham, Md. Another fire destroyed two sound stages and caused $3 million damages at the Samuel Goldwyn studios in Los Angeles on Christmas Day.

There were also events beyond the ordinary on the joyful side of Christmas.

Marietta van Dorp, wife of a Dutch banker, gave birth to quadruplets in London. Jenny Jones, a 3-year-old Korean orphan, spent her first Christmas in her new American home after her adoption was held up for more than a year by red tape. Her adoptive mother called Jenny's arrival on Christmas Eve "a miracle."

The average family's Christmas was far less miraculous. Typical, though they are not a typical family, were the Gerald Rudolph Fords, residents of the White House, Washington, D.C.

President and Mrs. Ford and their three sons, daughter and daughter-in-law opened gifts after a breakfast of pancakes, sausage and scrambled eggs. Their traditional dinner included roast turkey, mashed potatoes and gravy, green peas with pearl onions, cranberry sauce, salad, rolls, Christmas cookies and pecan pie with ice cream.

The President also went skiing on the snowy slopes in Vail, Colo., where the family is vacationing.

The snow was less enjoyable for many others. Storms in Illinois and Indiana created hazardous driving conditions. There was also a rare White Christmas in parts of Texas and rain or freezing rain in much of the rest of the country.

It was the kind of day to stay inside, but not everyone seemed happy to do so. At the state prison in Concord, N.H., some 140 inmates demanded that another 20 convicts in solitary confinement be allowed out for a Christmas meal and, when the demand was refused, staged a five-hour rebellion.

They took several prison employees hostage, but the hostages escaped with no serious injuries. The inmates also set fires that left half the cells unusable and the kitchen and dining hall heavily damaged.

State police were called in and fired tear gas, forcing the riotous prisoners into a courtyard where they faced near zero temperatures before returning to their cells.

Another prisoner, Patricia Hearst, the newspaper heiress awaiting trial on bank robbery charges, joined in a party with other inmates at the San Mateo County Jail in California. She and the other women were given gifts such as perfume and toiletries from the Service League of San Mateo but were not allowed other gifts.

Income Tax Forms Readied For Delivery Across Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Along with bills for Christmas purchases, Americans soon will receive another perennial piece of year-end mail — their incometax forms.

The Postal Service says it will begin delivering the forms today to homes and businesses around the country. The mailing of the 84 million forms may be the largest single mailing in American history, the Postal Service says.

In most cases, taxpayers won't be able to fill out the forms until next month, when employers send out statements of earnings and withholdings.

The forms must be completed and returned by April 15, 1976.

This year's tax form includes several new items, including those to list credits for personal exemptions and earned income. These additions were made necessary by a tax law passed this year.

The form also includes space to fill in demographic information for the Census Bureau. The census questions ask the taxpayer's city or town, whether he lives within the corporate or county limits and his state.

"The format looks the same this year. It will be red, white and blue again," a spokesman for the Internal Revenue Service said.

The forms again will allow taxpayers to designate $1 to the presidential election campaign fund.

New taxpayers, who will not be receiving tax forms in the mail, can obtain them at IRS offices and at many banks and post offices.

The Postal Service refused to give its employees a day off today, although President Ford declared the day after Christmas a holiday for other federal workers.

The Postal Service, which is running up a deficit of nearly $7 million per day, says it will save $24 million by the action. If Friday had been declared a holiday for postal workers, the additional $24 million would have to have been paid in premiums for holiday work.

The Postal Service is using some 360 vans to transport the tax forms from printers in Gallatin, Tenn.; Green Bay, Wis.; and Warsaw, Ind., to 317 postal management sectional centers. At the centers, the tax forms will be sorted and distributed to local post offices, the Postal Service said.

Unemployment Claims Rise

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — New applications for unemployment benefits from state and federal programs took a jump the week that ended Dec. 20 with 24,072 Ohio claimants, the Bureau of Employment Services said today.

The week before 21,917 persons made initial claims while 27,214 persons asked for compensation for the week ended Dec. 6. That compares to 42,125 for an average week in December 1974.

For the fourth consecutive week, continuing unemployment compensation went up to an estimated 146,000 for the week ended Dec. 20. The previous week, 143,883 received compensation. The figure is near the December 1974 weekly number of 149,210.

The unemployment rate in Ohio at the beginning of the month was 7.6 per cent.

Rhodes House Appraisal Low?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes' house in a fashionable Columbus suburb has been newly appraised for tax purposes at about $37,000 less than what he paid for it five years ago, the Akron Beacon Journal reported in its editions today.

The newspaper said neighboring properties have appraisals at least $60,000 higher than the Rhodes property.

But Rhodes is not alone, the news paper said. Lt. Gov. Richard F. Celeste and state Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson, both Democrats, also have valuations below the price at which they bought their homes.

Appraised values have a direct bearing on the amount of taxes the owners pay. Taxes are assessed on 35 per cent of the fair market value of the property. The higher the appraised value of the property, the greater the amount of tax.

An official of the firm responsible for Rhodes' appraisal said special circumstances made Rhodes' property worth less than surrounding properties and negated the impact of the purchase price. Rhodes, who is spending the Christmas holidays in Florida, was unavailable for comment.

Rhodes, a Republican, purchased his two-story, four-bedroom house for $150,000. His backyard faces onto the Scioto Country Club championship golf course in the suburb of Upper Arlington.

Based on an eight per cent annual inflation rate over the last five years, Rhodes' residence is worth $220,399, the Beacon Journal said. But under a Franklin County reappraisal effective last Jan. 1, Rhodes' property was valued at $112,910.

Rhodes' property taxes next year will be about $1,494. If the property were appraised at the $150,000 he paid for it, his taxes would jump to about $1,994.

Up to now, Rhodes has been paying taxes on an appraised value of $57,690, set during the county's previous reappraisal. His taxes this year were about $1,150.

The reappraisals were done by the Dayton firm of Cole-Layer-Trumble, the newspaper said.

Kenneth Martin, a spokesman for the firm, said the company stands behind its figure and believes there are special considerations which make Rhodes' property worth less than surrounding properties.

"It is one of the smaller houses" in the neighborhood, Martin said, and has less frontage than houses on either side.

Martin also said he thought the governor's purchase included some furnishing, but he acknowledged that would not account for the $37,000 difference, the newspaper said.

Martin said the property was not handled by his appraisers in any special way just because it was owned by the governor.

"It would not make any difference at all," he said.

Cruiser Bombed At Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus Police reported that one of their cruisers was bombed early today as it sat on a parking lot next to the downtown police station.

Police said there were no injuries in the explosion, which went off at 12:39 a.m.

The blast was heard throughout the station, but reportedly caused little damage to anything other than the cruiser.

Authorities could offer no motive for the bombing.

19-Year-Old Cited In Accident

Nineteen-year-old Barry Marshall, 552 Sycamore Road, was cited by Sheriff's Deputy J. Phillip Brown for failing to heed to a stop sign, when he was involved in a two-car accident, 11:45 p.m. Christmas Eve.

Southbound on Hawthorne Drive, Marshall was approaching the Route 188-Hawthorne intersection when he failed to stop, skidded onto 188 and struck an eastbound vehicle driven by Donn P. Simmons, 22, Route 4.

No injuries were reported.

4 Persons Die In Gun Battle In Tennessee

NEWPORT, Tenn. (AP) — A gun battle that left four persons dead and two wounded may have been in revenge for an ambush in which a prison escapee was shot last week, officials say.

The Tennessee Bureau of Investigation said Jackie Laymon, 24, walked into the Red Lantern Inn armed with a carbine about 3 a.m. Christmas morning and began firing.

Bureau agent Bill Russell said Laymon escaped from a state prison last Aug. 12 and was wounded by shotgun fire a week ago in an ambush outside his mother's home here. He said Laymon may have gone to the tavern believing he would find the men responsible for the ambush.

Cooke County Sheriff Tom O'Dell said that in the exchange of gunfire at the tavern, Laymon apparently fatally wounded three men and was killed himself by return fire from one of the three.

Three other men, who were not named, are being held on an open charge pending filing of charges today.

The sheriff quoted witnesses as saying some of the approximately 25 people in the tavern fell to the floor when Laymon appeared at the door and began shooting.

"By that time, at least two and maybe more guns were being fired and Laymon was hit," O'Dell said. "He stumbled back out of the door and collapsed in the parking lot where he apparently was run over by a car later."

In addition to Laymon, the dead were identified as Gary Miller, 29, and Steve Valentine, 18, both of Newport, and Ricky E. Cochran, 25, of Dublin, Ga. Wounded in the gunfire were Danny Davis, 20, in critical condition, and James Stinnett, in serious condition.

Laymon was serving 99 years for murder and armed robbery in a 1968 incident. Police said a check taken in a robbery two weeks ago was found on his body and that he was a suspect in several recent burglaries.

CB Radio, Tools Taken By Thieves

Sheriff's Deputies investigated two reports of breaking and entering.

George Howard, Route 2, Ashville, reported thieves took a citizen band radio from a pickup truck, within the past weeks.

The thieves forced a wing window open to unlock the door of the truck and remove the radio.

Value of the radio was set at $229.95. Tools, valued at $500, were removed from a disabled truck parked in a private lane, Christmas Eve.

The tools were removed from the truck owned by Richard H. Hoadge, Route 1, Bloomingburg.

Auto Recovered

Sheriff's Authorities recovered a stolen vehicle, Thursday, along Route 23 near Clifton's Auto Sales.

Deputy Nick Franklin observed the auto parked along the road before checking to see if it was stolen.

The 1966 vehicle, owned by Howard Foganty of Jackson, was stolen Dec. 21.

Bank Agencies Hit By Proxmire

WASHINGTON (AP) — A report by the General Accounting Office says three agencies that regulate the nation's banks indulge in "wasteful and lavish spending" of tax dollars, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said today.

Proxmire, chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, said the report by the government watchdog agency says officials of the Federal Reserve Board, the office of the comptroller of the currency and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., "live high off the hog" compared to employees of other government agencies.

The senator said the GAO report showed expenditures for such things as office space, travel and furniture to be out of line with the amounts spent by similar regulatory agencies.

A spokesman for the comptroller's office said officials there had not seen the GAO report or Proxmire's statement, but he concluded that Proxmire's "observations and calculations are either based on incomplete information or are misrepresentations of data furnished voluntarily by us to the GAO."

Officials of the other agencies had no comment.

Proxmire, sponsoring legislation to consolidate the three regulatory agencies, said the three now spend $137 million each year.

Proxmire said the GAO report shows:

—"The Federal Reserve Board spends nearly $6,000 per employee for office space for its Washington employees. This is six times the amount spent by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

—"Washington employees of the comptroller of the currency enjoy almost twice the amount of space compared to employees of other regulatory agencies with comparable responsibilities.

—"In 1974, the Federal Reserve Board spent over $3,000 per employee for furniture, fixtures and equipment for each Washington employee. This is 10 times the amount spent by the agency that regulates credit unions.

—"The award for junketing goes to the Washington office of the comptroller of the currency. Travel costs per employee in 1974 were almost $1,300. This is more than three times the amount spent by the SEC and more than double the amount spent by the FDIC."

Proxmire said "these lavish expenditures for space, travel and furniture are not surprising" since the three agencies are outside the regular budget process and do not have to come to Congress for their money.

Quiet Christmas For Christ-Awaiters

GRANNIS, Ark. (AP) — At the house where the vigil for the second coming of Christ is taking place, the children spent Christmas playing around a small tree decorated with handmade ornaments.

"It was our best Christmas ever," said Elizabeth Nance Bard, one of the more than 25 persons who have waited since Sept. 29 for the second coming and the world to end. "It was our best Christmas because we know He may be coming any minute."

Mrs. Bard added: "The children had a traditional Christmas — we got them all toys, just small items, just in case we made it this far. The children all went out behind the house a ways last week and cut down a tree. Then we made things to hang on it. We didn't buy anything, we just made do with what we had around the house."

Grannis is a town of 177 persons in southwestern Arkansas, six miles from the Broken Bow Indian reservation in Oklahoma.

The vigil began when the group, most related by blood or marriage, met for a prayer meeting in Gene Nance's small brick house. Mrs. Bard said one member of the vigil got a "vision from God and then the others started getting the same message."

The message was that the second coming of Christ was near and that the group should stay together until He

Children Lost Since Day Before Yule

NEW YORK (AP) — Deborah Mackall took her 4-year-old daughter and 2-year-old son to do some last minute toy shopping on Christmas Eve at a Queens department store. She has not seen them since.

Police said Mrs. Mackall told them she took the children, Candy and Rodell, to the store shortly before 6 p.m. When they arrived at the third-floor toy department she told them to wait because she wanted to make the purchases alone so they would be surprised on Christmas.

However, she told police, when she returned for the children about 10 minutes later they were gone. She notified store security guards and they immediately began a search of the building and the subway area beneath.

The search both before and after the store closed did not turn up the children.

Instead of celebrating Christmas the way she planned, Mrs. Mackall arrived at the store Christmas morning to assist state troopers who had been asked to bring bloodhounds to the store. The dogs picked up a scent on a pillow but later lost it.

Personal Transit System Has Problems

By JENNIFER KERR
Associated Press Writer
MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (AP) — The church-bound students shivered on the concrete platform one chilly Sunday, but the computer-run signs over the space age little cars stubbornly maintained: "Do Not Board."

It was 14 per cent time for West Virginia University's experimental Personal Rapid Transit System — PRT.

After two months of testing with real people riding it, the reliability of the $62.4-million, 5.4-mile automated system is up to 86 per cent. That means that for every 20 rides you try to take from the system's three stations, it won't be working right on about three trips.

"We think it's on schedule," said

Miss Painter, a freshman at OSU, plans a major in administrative science. During her first quarter there she maintained a 3.94 grade point average.

Col. Robert M. Moore of Cincinnati, one of the founders of the Grand Army of the Republic, originally suggested establishment of Memorial Day in 1868, and it began in that year.

Sammy E. G. Elias, the industrial engineering professor who conceived the project almost 10 years ago. "Our reliability has improved steadily over the past two months.

"But we're still some distance from our aim of 96 per cent."

Since the federal Urban Mass Transit Administration, which financed and built the prototype, turned the system over to the university Oct. 3, the 45 beige yellow and blue symmetrical cars have carried about 200,000 passengers over about the same number of miles, Elias said. It runs 13 hours a day during the week and five hours on weekends.

Right now the system has three stations: Walnut Street in downtown Morgantown, Beechurst Avenue near the main campus buildings and Evandale at the engineering school.

Two more stations — at the Towers dormitory and the Medical Center — will be built with another expected Department of Transportation grant of $53.8 million. Elias said the engineering design for the extended concrete guideway and stations is done. He hopes construction can be started by July and completed by early 1978.

When the system was first proposed in 1967, the projected price was $18 million — but then no one had ever built a PRT.

"This system was designed to demonstrate the feasibility and public acceptance of an automated transportation system," says the explanatory sign on the lower level of the concrete Beechurst station. "The driverless vehicles are computer controlled and offer privacy and service unlike any other transportation system."

Another sign warns of the system's test period — "Shutdowns are expected that will in no way endanger your safety."

All the shutdowns do is try the students' patience.

During the Sunday shutdown, the students calmly waited while a worker scurried about, pulling knobs on the backs of the 15-foot-long vehicles, which hold eight persons seated and 12 more standing.

The computer is supposed to send a car to a station when potential riders insert their special tickets in the turnstile. The cars were there, but their doors would not open to let the riders in. And while three cars sat defiantly humming beneath the "Do Not Board" sign, other cars eerily started up and glided away, empty, to the other stations.

"I'm one of the few people who likes this," said Holly Hudson, a freshman from Rockville, Md., "They're always on it when it breaks down."

"The yellow flashing light — on top of the station signaling a breakdown — seems to be going around quite often," said Tom Martin, a sophomore from Beckley, W. Va.

More students arrived, but the turnstile refused to return their tickets, which let them ride free — others pay 25 cents.

The worker came out again and retrieved the cards. But student John Chan's was damaged and he was told he'd have to get a new one Monday.

"But how do I get back?" asked Chan.

"You'll have to pay a quarter," he was told.

Chan waited for awhile, then stomped off to find a bus.

Several of the students also left, but others had kind words for the system. "I think it's worth it," said David Boetsch, a junior from Parkersburg.

"It's something we're going to have to use, transportation being what it is."

"What upsets me is when people get impatient. It's a prototype and it has bugs."

Soon a technician bearing electronic gear fiddled with the switches and knobs of the car that wouldn't budge. With his gear, he made the car's doors open and close, lights flash and the motor hum like a vacuum cleaner.

Finally, he made it run. Full of students and a family, the car rolled on its four rubber tires, slightly more bumpy than one would expect, over the concrete guideway, above and parallel to the rival highway and railroad track. In minutes it arrived at Evandale.

Answers For Veterans

EDITOR'S NOTE: Each week The Circleville Herald will publish a series of Questions and Answers of interest to veterans. These questions and answers are some of the many presented to James P. Shea, Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer. Any veteran desiring further information on any question presented in this column, or having any question concerning his Veterans Administration benefits should contact the Veterans Service Officer in the basement of the Pickaway County Court House.

(Q.) I am a veteran with a Service Connected Disability rated at 50 per cent. My daughter has graduated from High School, and would like to attend nursing school. Can she receive educational benefits from the VA?

(A.) No, she cannot. The Dependents Educational Assistance, formerly known as the War Orphan's Educational Assistance is for the purpose of providing opportunities for education to: Children whose education would otherwise be impeded or interrupted by reason of the Service connected Total and Permanent disability or death of a parent, or death of a permanently disabled result of a Service Connected Disability.

(Q.) Can a widow qualify for a GI Loan?

(A.) Yes, if she has not remarried and her husband died of a service connected disability.

(Q.) My husband has a 50 per cent disability, stemming from his Vietnam war service. Would I qualify for War Widow's education benefits?

(A.) Your husband service connected disability would have to be 100 per cent and permanent in order for you to get War Widows' education assistance.

(Q.) When a widow remarries does she still receive her benefits from her former husband?

(A.) No. When she remarries she loses her entitlement to VA payments. If she were to get a divorce or her new husband die she could start collecting from the former husband's claim.

(Q.) I draw compensation from the Veterans Administration for a 30 per cent disability. Since I will soon be 65 and retired, can I waive compensation and switch to pension?

(A.) Yes, if you apply to VA and it is to your advantage. VA will make determination based on information you provide and pay you the higher benefit.

A Page Of Opinion

There Went The Price Break

The news that rolling back the price of oil will not filter down to the consumer should be no surprise to Americans.

After much quoting of figures, the government now tells us that any lowering of price for petroleum products will be sopped up by the oil companies and by another small price increase by OPEC nations.

Naturally, there has been no disclosure of just what the increased oil company costs will be that will kill any price reductions.

This is in line with the government's attitude all through the oil crisis, the natural gas crisis, the gasoline shortage and all the rest.

Using figures supplied by those very companies who have a vested interest in raising prices, the government says those costs are justified and pat the companies on the back.

Once again, this should be no surprise. The little man must resign himself to continued poverty brought about by high prices, or make his feelings known at election time.

Things To Come

By JIM BISHOP

The kooks are back. They predict. Sometimes they score. Sometimes they don't. I don't know whether they do it with damp tea leaves, crystal balls, tarot cards, brain waves, voices from beyond, fits of gurus. It is enough to know that they are on record with their 1976 predictions.

The only uniformity I found among 49 of them is an agreement that we are going to see many more Unidentified Flying Objects (which figures).

I staggered though the visions of 17 of them in a book called "Predictions for 1976" (Award Books). Later I checked a few categories: Food; Politics; Jacqueline Onassis; World Affairs.

The result is a foggy crystal ball:

FOOD

Greta Alexander: "Spring 1976 will bring considerable replanting in farm fields of the Midwest. Soybean prices will stabilize. Corn prices will rally and farmers will make up for the last few years of poor prices. . . we'll see a bumper harvest."

Ralph Campo: "New ideas in food will prevail. Mushrooms will be used more. Scientists will prove that insects, worms and flowers have protein and other useful substances. They will try to camouflage the origin of these findings, with the consent of governmental authorities."

Bertie Catchings: "A new hot drink will be released onto the market in 1976. The drink will be made from compressed spinach leaves."

Malva Dee: "The beef industry will market grass fed beef. But the price will remain high."

Joseph East: "There will be moves to lease tropical islands to can tropical vegetables right there on the spot and ship them home to us."

Dr. Gil E. Gilley: "I predict that Zaire will be running a battle to can and sell human meat."

POLITICS

Greta Alexander: "We can expect a change in our form of government."

Doc Anderson: "George Wallace is destined to be the President of the United States." Aquarius: "Wallace won't get the Democratic nomination . . . At the moment it looks like Rockefeller vs. a dark horse." Rev.

L.A. Ball: "Ted Kennedy is going to be drafted. . . He'll win the election."

Elizabeth Burrows: "The next president will be a Democrat. The name of Joseph Murphy plays a role someplace in the convention highlights, though not necessarily as a nominee." Ralph Campo: "President Ford will lose his popularity due to a foreign affair. . ."

Bertie Catchings: "Governor Ella T. Grasso of Connecticut will be nominated for the office of President of the United States." Joseph East: "There will be a move to nominate God the Father for President as we need His knowledge, honesty and perfection. It will make people think."

Joseph East, a second thought: "Ronald Reagan will make the best Republican candidate for president. He could balance the budget by playing his old movies on TV."

JACQUELINE ONASSIS

Ann Fisher: "She'll marry within two years to an American whom she has been seeing." Joseph East: "She will lose a great deal of weight; a person is affected that way when constantly surrounded by death." Allene Cunningham: "She will be asked to do a movie. . ."

Bertie Catchings: "She will soon write a book that will be made into a movie." Ralph Campo: "She will surprise everyone with a new, rich marriage that will be the talk of the century." Doc Anderson: "She will face legal problems about the Onassis estate. The next man she will consider marrying will be after her money and fame."

WORLD AFFAIRS

Gil E. Gilley: ". . . out of Europe somewhere there'll be a new ingenious invention that will replace life rafts. It will actually permit people to walk on water. . ." Rev. Bennie Garrison: "I see the U.S. firing a missile by mistake at another country. I see a missile being fired back at the U.S. . . The Statue of Liberty will have a broken right hand for the people of this country." Ellen Evans: "The U.S. will maintain good relations with foreign countries."

Bette Eglar: "History will repeat itself in 1976 with revolution marking the end of a cycle for the U.S." Joseph East: "Bumper stickers will read: 'Buy Japanese and win a free trip to the Tokyo Unemployment Office.'"

Joseph Donnelly: "As time passes, our currency will become almost worthless. This will create panic and wall-to-wall riots."

Me? I can predict what Kelly is cooking for dinner. . .

Fish Return To Detroit River

DETROIT (AP) — It took an investment of some $750 million and 10 years of labor to bring the Chinook salmon and steelhead trout back to the Detroit River.

Records reveal that some 150 years ago as many as 30,000 whitefish were caught in a single day in front of the young city of Detroit. And as recently as the turn of the century, the 15-mile stretch of river that connects Lake St. Clair and Lake Erie was considered one of the most beautiful streams in the Midwest.

As the city developed from a mid-western village into the industrial capital of the nation, the river began to decline. By the 1940s and 1950s, pollution in the river reached scandalous proportions.

Stern measures were adopted to reverse the river's condition. Since 1966, $345 million has been spent on equipment that today removes 90 per cent of the wastes from the sewage of Detroit and surrounding communities. Private sources joined state and city authorities with additional funds to improve further the environmental quality of the river.

In 1973 the Michigan Department of Natural Resources began to plant game fish in the river. In that year, 304,500 Chinook salmon and 60,540 steelhead trout were planted in the river at Belle Isle, a 1,000-acre park in the middle of the river. Similar quantities of the fish were planted in 1974 and 1975. This fall marked the first run of "jacks" — three-year-old fish back to the waters off Belle Isle. Spawning runs of mature fish, the true "King" salmon, are expected in the fall of 1976.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Dec. 26, the 360th day of 1975. There are five days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1776, George Washington's troops captured one thousand Hessians in the Revolutionary War battle of Trenton, New Jersey.

On this date — In 1805, the peace of Pressburg was signed by Napoleon Bonaparte and the emperor of Austria.

In 1825, an uprising in the Russian army was crushed.

In 1865, James Nason of Franklin, Mass. was granted a patent for the first coffee percolator in the United States.

In 1917, during World War I, the federal government took over operation of the nation's railroads.

In 1941, early in the Pacific War, General Douglas MacArthur declared the Philippine capital of Manila an open city.

In 1943, a British destroyer fired the final torpedo to sink the German battleship "Scharnhorst" after a running battle with a Royal Navy task force off the coast of Norway.

Ten years ago: Ground fighting resumed in Vietnam at the expiration of a 30-hour Christmas truce but air attacks remained suspended until the end of the year.

Five years ago: President Nixon signed a three-year expansion of the family planning service, creating a federal office to coordinate ways to control population growth.

One year ago: Comedian Jack Benny died at the age of 80.

Today's birthdays: Entertainer Steve Allen is 54 years old. Writer Henry Miller is 84.

Thought for today: You've got to love what's lovable and hate what's hateable. It takes brains to see the difference — poet Robert Frost, 1874-1963.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago, the Continental Congress resolved to emit another $3 million in bills of credit to defray the costs of the army and navy.

The local WPA office was making plans to begin work on the north end storm sewer extension project. Pipe for the project had arrived, and plans were developed to transfer 40 men to the sewer program. Distribution of $13,100 in tangible personal nad classified taxes was announced by County Auditor Forrest Short.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My wife gave birth to a normal baby six weeks ago. There was reason for rejoicing because we were trying so hard to have one. Now, she seems to be in a deep funk, even though we have all the reasons for happiness. Will this depression disappear?

Mr. E. B. T., Ky.

Dear Mr. T:

The condition you describe is known as "post-partum" depression. It occurs with far greater frequency than is commonly suspected.

Women who seem to be in excellent emotional health may suddenly be projected into a period of depression, for reasons that are not entirely understood.

During pregnancy, many hormonal imbalances occur. Such upheavals may be responsible for stimulating the symptoms of despair and anxiety after the birth of a child.

There is a temptation for families to say, "We'll sweat this out," and hope that it will disappear of its own accord. This is a possibility, of course, but a much wiser approach is to seek the guidance of a psychiatrist or a psychologist. They, in conjunction with the patient's doctor, may uncover some deeply hidden problems which erupted at this time.

Why is it necessary to drink large quantities of water with a high protein reducing diet? I've been on the steak and egg diet. I wonder how the egg helps to lose weight.

Miss V. G., Ill.

Dear Miss G.:

The large intake of water does not play a role in weight reduction. Its function is to flush out the "ketones" that result from such a high protein, or "ketosis," diet.

It is most important that anyone who undertakes such a diet must do so with a doctor's supervision. Following the instructions of a paperback book is no substitute for the safety of a doctor's advice.

Many problems can arise from such a diet. There may be an imbalance of minerals and "electrolytes" in the bloodstream. This can be a major threat to health unless it is checked and controlled.

Another concern may be unusual water retention, especially if the salt intake is not curtailed.

There are many sensible dieting regimes that are not fraught with potential hazards.

Kissinger Fears Russians Emboldened By Angola Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger says congressional outcries over U.S. involvement in Angola could embolden the Soviet Union to embark on military adventures elsewhere, in spite of the danger to detente.

Kissinger said that before the Senate last week blocked funds to U.S.-backed factions in Angola, "my view was that a solution was achievable in the relatively near future, especially if we could have pursued it with quiet diplomacy."

Kissinger told a news conference Tuesday that detente with Moscow is in peril but said only part of the blame rests with a Soviet quest for influence in Angola.

"The danger to detente that we now face is that our domestic disputes are depriving us of both the ability to provide incentives for (Soviet) moderation as well as the ability to resist military moves by the Soviet Union, as in Angola," Kissinger said.

He said relations with the Soviet Union will "become more tense" if the Russians continue to send military supplies into Angola. He said there is "no question that our over-all relationship will suffer if we do not find an adequate solution to the Angolan problem. Where it will suffer and in what ways, I am not prepared to say."

Kissinger rejected the notion that the situations in Angola and Vietnam are comparable. But he made a case for a limited U.S. involvement in Angola by resurrecting some of the arguments once used to defend the American commitment in Vietnam.

"Failure to resist can only lead other countries to conclude that their situation is becoming increasingly precarious," he said. "It is my conviction that if one does not discharge his responsibilities in one place, one will be forced to do so elsewhere under more difficult circumstances."

Kissinger ruled out for the time being any U.S. effort to force a Soviet backdown in Angola by cutting off U.S. grain shipments. Such action, he said, would not affect the Soviet "strategic position."

But Kissinger outlined a series of other U.S. measures designed to neutralize the substantial aid the Soviets have been providing to the Marxist Popular Movement for the Liberation of Angola.

The United States reportedly has $8.2 million left from past appropriations for further assistance for the two anti-Soviet factions in Angola, and Kissinger said these funds would be used in an attempt to influence the battlefield situation there.

Strong congressional opposition has made additional outlays doubtful.

Deep Well Plan Before Agency

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A proposal to relax spacing requirements for deep wells to allow more efficient extraction of gas and oil will come before a branch of the Department of Natural Resources next month.

The Ohio Oil and Gas Technical Advisory Council will hear a Newark firm's request that the requirements be changed to allow additional drilling in four townships in southeastern Tuscarawas County.

Regulations limit one well to each 150 acres, with at least 1,000 feet to any boundary and 2,000 feet between wells. Stocker and Sittler Inc. would change the requirement to one well per 120 acres, with at least 750 feet to any boundary and 1,500 feet between wells.

The kooks are back. They predict. Sometimes they score. Sometimes they don't. I don't know whether they do it with damp tea leaves, crystal balls, tarot cards, brain waves, voices from beyond, fits of gurus. It is enough to know that they are on record with their 1976 predictions.

Business World

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Fire and casualty insurers are expected to close 1975 with a near-disastrous $4 billion underwriting loss that they hope to overcome with still more rate increases.

A campaign to raise rates, perhaps through an escalator device geared to the inflation rates, has already begun. Regulatory officials in 30 states are the targets.

The losses, the worst in the industry's history, have led to the failure of 29 insurers this year and threaten the solvency of others, despite big rate increases in 1975.

Members of the industry talk about a crisis that could leave "hundreds of thousands, possibly millions" of Americans without automobile insurance, not to mention problems with off property-liability insurance.

The impact is even wider than that. Stock market analysts are concerned. Said Blyth Eastman Dillon in an analysis: "Any future market weakness can be expected to trigger panic portfolio sales from fire-casualty companies."

Insurers blame a multiplicity of factors, with inflation leading a list that includes politics, weather, a greater tendency of the public to sue and obtain large awards, competition and a poor stock market.

Some stock analysts add another: Mismanagement. Theodore Newton Jr. of Blyth Eastman Dillon comments that the great bull market that began in the 1950s and extended into this decade made management complacent.

By his estimates, $9.5 billion was added to industry surpluses in the years 1958-1972, a period in which the insurers' underwriting business only broke even. They came to rely too heavily on the market, which collapsed.

The impact is causing problems even for those companies not immediately faced with the threat of insolvency. Insurers must maintain a surplus of assets in order to assure their ability to pay claims.

In 1972 the ratio of premiums to surplus was about 1.7 times, based on surpluses of $16.6 billion and premiums of $27.6 billion. Newton estimates surplus is now $7.8 billion and premiums $31 billion, for a ratio of 4.

The factors that put the industry in its present situation are an unusual coalition.

Inflation hurt because rates must be set without knowing what prices will be in the future. Moreover, in most states regulators have felt a political need to keep down rates. Consumer groups added further pressure.

Social changes contributed. People began to sue more often. Juries also tended to become more lenient, especially in malpractice and negligence suits.

The weather contributed. Tornado and hurricane damage settlements added to the bills, but not nearly so badly as did the bills from the storm on Wall Street.

Whatever the reasons, wherever the blame is to be placed, the insurers are committed to obtaining higher rates in 1976.

Ohio Marketbasket Prices Even Over Year

By JOE MCKNIGHT
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Grocery prices around Ohio during 1975 were without change as the year ended.
An Associated Press monthly survey of prices on 16 items in scattered Ohio cities showed the average cost declined three cents over the 12 months. The cost on Dec. 1, 1974 was $18.64 compared to $18.61 a year later.
Overall, the cost of the grocery items declined the first five months of 1975, rose during each of the next three months, then fluctuated monthly the rest of the year.
The AP is in its third year of charting monthly prices. The items priced have remained constant while some cities were changed to achieve a more representative sampling.
The year started with skyrocketing sugar prices which peaked in February at $2.65 for five pounds of granulated. By July 1, it dropped to $1.28.

Then coffee, which sold for $3.48 per three pound can in late April, started to increase. At the end of August, the same can sold for $3.71, and going into December the price hit $4.29.
Meat items fluctuated in price but creeping inflation pushed them upward over the year. One pound of hamburger cost an average of 77 cents last February and at the end of November had risen another 11 cents.
One pound of chuck roast went from 99 cents March 1 to $1.22 at the end of October before dropping back to $1.16 on December 1.
Whole frying chickens per pound started the year at 62 cents, dropped to 54 cents May 1 but averaged 69.5 cents in early December.

Center cut pork chops began 1975 at $1.54 per pound, hit $2.00 on Aug. 1 and peaked Oct. 1 at $2.19. They dropped back to $2.04 by Thanksgiving.
Prices held mostly constant on peanut butter, orange juice and chocolate chip cookies through the year. A 12-ounce container of peanut butter ranged from 65 to 70 cents while a 14 1/2 ounce package of cookies was most often priced at 99 cents.
A 12-ounce can of frozen orange juice ranged from 58 cents on April 1 and July 1 to 66 cents December 1.
The price range on other shopping items from the list included:
One-half gallon of whole milk—From 70 cents in April, August and September, to 76 cents Dec. 1.
One pound of stick margarine—From a high of 73 cents March 1 to 61 cents Dec. 1.
One dozen medium white eggs—

Traditionally high in winter months, started the year at 80 cents, dropped to 56 cents in July and was back to 79 cents in December.
Four-roll pack of toilet tissue—Slipped from 83 cents in June to 74 cents in November and December.
One pound loaf of store brand bread—Went from a high of 41 cents in April to 33 cents in September and October.
Ten pound bags of white potatoes—Started the year at 95 cents, hit $2.02 July 1 and by year's end slipped to $1.40.
A 49-pound package of namebrand detergent—Reached a low of $1.20 last February and gradually rose to $1.32 at the end of November.
Massillon, at $16.41, had the lowest consistent prices on average through the year, while Cincinnati had the highest average at $19.65.

Steubenville came closest to Massillon in low prices at $17.36 for the 16 items. Other average prices for the year by city were Conneaut, $17.64; Van Wert, $17.67; Cleveland, $17.68; Akron, $18.09; Fremont, $18.25; Youngstown, $18.27; Chillicothe $18.47; Columbus, $18.55, and Portsmouth, $19.20.

Birthday Correction

In Tuesday's edition of The Herald it was inadvertently written that Mrs. Nelson Waliser, 27982 Tarlton-Adelphi Road, celebrated her 18th on Dec. 22 when it was actually her 80th birthday.

Not All Ohio News Gloomy During Past Year

By HENRY HEILBRUNN
Associated Press Writer
Bar owner Jared J. Florian thanks his zipper for 1975. Eleven-year-old Carol Koop may have digested the toughest sandwich of her life in 1975. And unemployed salesman Jim Matuszak will remember floating in 1975 for 31 days.
There were bright spots in Ohio in 1975. Those were among the many.
Florian was shot while tending bar in Warrensville Heights by robbers who stole $300. But the bullet struck his trouser zipper and deflected to his right thigh, police said. He was released the same day from the hospital.
Young Carol Koop of Dayton made it herself. Among the 25 ingredients that won her the Gross Sandwich award: jelly, sauerkraut, barbecue sauce, creamy Italian dressing, grapes, Honeycomb breakfast cereal and pickles, of course. She ate the WHOLE thing.

Matuszak may still be wallowing. "It's kind of a crazy thing to do," he explained before boarding a waterbed for the month of October as a promotion for a Dayton store. He spent each day reading, thinking and taking vitamins.
Elza Abraham is back to rubbing feet. The 78-year-old was allowed to continue his hobby after he was acquitted in Middletown of practicing medicine without a license. He's rubbed tired and tortured toes for 18 years.

Some thieves are never satisfied. This man in Barberton stole a $26.99 pair of shoes one night and returned the next morning for a pair more nearly his size. The clerk recognized him. The man fled before police arrived.
Talk about honesty. Owen Sexton of suburban Cincinnati can tell you the time he lost his billfold and three persons returned parts of it within 36 hours. The wallet had apparently been run over by some vehicles and fallen into three parts.
Gov. James A. Rhodes has to remind his secretary that all words pronounced like his name aren't spelled the same. There's roads, for example, meaning streets. And then, according to a news release from his office, there's the "Rhodes Island School of Architecture," obviously meaning the Eastern state.

Around courthouses of Ohio, there's good news as well as the bad.
In Judge Fred B. Cramer's court in Butler County, he distributes buttons identifying jurors so they no longer have to say "I'm a juror. Please don't talk to me."
U.S. District Court Judge Carl B. Rubin, sitting in Cincinnati, displayed judicial humor in settling a jury's $3 coffee bill. "In a day when the federal budget approaches $300 billion, it behooves each of us to search out and eliminate all possible improper expenditures of the federal government," Rubin wrote in allowing the bill. But, he added, "This order shall not extend to the purchase of doughnuts, either jellied or plain."
A municipal judge in Cincinnati was honored for a decision to allow vendors to sell food from pushcarts in the city square. The city prosecutor's office presented him with "The Order of the Hot Dog" that entitled him "to all the rights and privileges of the order and to wear its badge which reads: 'Pick a pair of plump ones.'"
Dogs? The Clark County sheriff's department tried to collect fines this year from a car registered to Tony Pomocpsioni. Tony is a dog, as the sheriff found.
Sam, a stray, 9-year-old mixed breed pooch that "came around one day and stayed," received a healthy sum when his owner died. He was the beneficiary of a $10,000 bequest.
A 5-month-old Siberian husky tried to break up a wedding. But Terry Bradford and Robert Egelston of Middletown were married nevertheless, despite the dog's effort at eating two of the groom's socks and a

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Don't Talk About Amy's Roommate

DEAR ABBY: Our 22-year-old daughter (I'll call her "Amy") has been living with her boyfriend for three months. Although I don't approve of the arrangement, I can't do anything about it without cutting off all communication with her, and I don't want to do that.
My problem is that I feel terribly awkward when a relative or close friend inquires about Amy. One question leads to another, and I am inevitably asked where Amy is living and with whom.
I don't feel comfortable talking about her living arrangements, but I have to say something. What should I say?
I'm sure lots of parents have the same problem these days, so you'd be doing all of us a favor by answering this in your column.
MOMIN THE MIDDLE
DEAR MOM: Simply say, "Amy's living with a friend, going to school (or working) and seems to be learning (or enjoying life)." Period. If the inquirer wants to know more, talk about Amy and leave the "friend" out of it. And if the interrogator wants to probe further, change the subject. Matter of fact, no matter if "relative" or "close friends" inquires, Amy's lifestyle is her own, and you should not explain, defend or apologize for it.
DEAR ABBY: It is quite common for friends to take pictures of their children from their wallets and show them off.
I usually say, "He (or she) is very nice-looking," or "He (or she) favors you," whichever the case may be.
What I'd like to know is what is the proper comment to make if the child is obviously very homely?
Recently my boss showed me a picture of his teenage daughter, and the poor thing was an adolescent mess. Cross-eyed, stringy hair, big nose and bad complexion. Also, she didn't favor him. I couldn't force myself to use either of the two comments I usually make because it would have been lying. And had I lied, I'm sure my insecurity would have been obvious.

What is an appropriate remark to make under these circumstances? A person has to say something.
SPEECHLESS
DEAR SPEECHLESS: You can always say (without lying), "My how proud you must be!"
DEAR ABBY: I am a successful executive, age 55, and recently married a wonderful woman who is 40, trim, beautiful and looks years younger than her age.
She has too much time on her hands and has seriously considered modeling dresses, suits, sportswear and swimwear. She possesses all the necessary attributes to be a first-class professional model.
The first agency she approached wanted her to sign immediately. So far, she hasn't signed because I have discouraged her. I'm afraid that she will find herself confronted with unwelcome advances from manufacturers, buyers and designers. Also, I fear that she may be man-handled, and the privacy of her dressing room will be invaded.
She says none of my fears are legitimate. Can you tell me just what fashion models can expect?
HER HUSBAND
DEAR HUSBAND: If you don't want your beautiful bride on display scantily clad before strange men, say so, but your fears of her having to fend off "unwelcome advances" being man-handled and having her privacy invaded are unfounded.
The one legitimate objection to her working as a fashion model you didn't mention. It is very hard work.

Fox Hunting Rule Draws Fire

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio farmers, sportsmen, and landowners who used to enjoy getting together for a Sunday fox hunt will have to go back to the legislature to make their old pastime legal again, the wildlife division says.

Dale L. Haney, division chief, said the law gives him only the authority to change the dates for seasons and not to interfere with the ban, effective Nov. 28, which prohibits taking fox on Sunday for the first time.

Haney said the Sunday ban has been the only part of the new law about which he has had complaints. Among its other provisions were those that fixed definite dates, subject to change by him, for hunting— Nov. 15 through March 15—and prohibited county commissioners from paying bounties for paws to control local fox populations.

He said most of the complaints have come from farmers and sportsmen generally in northwest Ohio but particularly around Van Wert and Auglaize Counties.

"I attended a meeting in Waynesfield (Auglaize) recently of about 250 sportsmen and a lot of the fellows were pretty stirred up about it," the wildlife chief said.

Haney pointed out that the division initially supported the new law sponsored by Rep. Eugene Branstool, D-1 Utica, who proposed at first only to establish the spelled out season and make other minor changes in the statutes.

Formerly, fox could be taken at any time except during the deer gun season—usually during the last part of November and the early part of December.

Haney said as Branstool's bill progressed through the legislature "it was amended to include the banning of Sunday hunting. We opposed that provision," he said, adding that he "still can see no reason for it."

The division chief said Ohio's fox population has been steadily on the increase since 1965. Last year, hunters bagged 16,824 red foxes and 18,174 gray foxes.

One exception is permitted in the new law, letting Sunday hunters on horseback pursue their sport provided that their efforts don't result in fox being killed or wounded.

On Books And Activities At The Library

"If winter comes, can spring be far behind?" Not if the new books coming into the library, like the scurrying brown leaves in "Ode to the West Wind" are an indication.

First, with bright yellow and red covers calculated to ward off the chill thoughts they occasion, are "J. K. Lasser's Your Income Tax, New Enlarged 1976 Edition." Perhaps by studying these, you may be able to take advantage of new benefits like deductible contributions to IRA plans; tax credit for new residence purchase; extended time for buying new residence for tax referral; and other new tax credits. If you are still confused after reading Lasser, be sure to sign up for our January Program Series, "Taxation Without Representation . . ." which will begin January 9.

A timely book for this time of pro and con discussion on tax cuts and tax spending for 1976 is "The Federal Rathole" by Donald Lambro. Mr. Lambro is a Washington reporter for United Press International. He reports such interesting tidbits as the fact that the Department of Agriculture spent $113,417 (52.40 per interview) to discover that mothers prefer children's clothing that needs no ironing. The author claims that the 1,000 areas of federal activity which he names could be abandoned, saving about $25 billion per year. And this, he suggests, is only the beginning.

"Collecting and Studying Mushrooms, Toadstools and Fungi" by Alan Major is an excellent guide to waken the winter dormant mushroom aficionados. Eight color plates, and 220 line drawings are used to describe over 290 species.

Outdoor Life's "Gun Data Book" by F. Philip Rice contains all kinds of facts and figures that hunters and gun enthusiasts need to know about guns and ammunition. In addition there is a directory of arms goods and services. Hunters who prefer more of a challenge, may find help and information in "Archery World's Complete Guide to Bowhunting." This guide provides a complete survey of this sport, with many photographs, charts and instructional drawings.

"Tennis Doubles: Tactics and Formations" by Paul Metzler, and "Lobbing into the Sun" by Harry Hopman provide helpful suggestions for improving your tennis game.

Several of the new books provide information and help for physical, mental and emotional well being. "Helping Children Overcome Learning Difficulties" by Jerome Rosner is a step-by-step guide to show parents and the teachers how to teach children with dyslexia and other learning handicaps. "Everyman's Guide to Drugs and Medicines" by Larry Massett and Dr. Earl W. Sutherland III lists most common prescription and non-prescription medicines. A chapter on each of the body's major systems explains how each system works and lists the drugs available when something goes wrong. "9 Months, 1 day, 1 year: A Guide to Pregnancy, Birth and Babycare" written by parents is a presentation of the experiences of real fathers and mothers during pregnancy, birth, and beginning parenthood. "Don't Change: A Biological Revolution for Women" by Wendy Cooper provides up to date information on the menopause.

"Women in Transition: A Feminist Handbook on Separation and Divorce" was compiled by a group of women in Philadelphia who organized to provide emotional, legal and social support to divorced women. There first handbook was such a success, it prompted the publication of this national edition. This handbook contains selected and tested information, as well as many personal experiences of the women involved.

A sign that the year is coming to a close is the arrival of the annuals for 1976. Three volumes of the "Scott Standard Postage Stamp Catalogue" for 1976 are in, as is "The Radio Amateur's Handbook 1976" published by the American Radio Relay League.

The "Yearbook of American and Canadian Churches 1975" may be showing signs of the times. A cartoon has one of the characters saying, "Well, now that we've got the church to change Chairman to Chairperson — and Clergyman to Clergywoman — what about this sexist word, 'Amen'?"

Finally, there is that most interesting annual, "Guinness Book of World Records 1976 Edition." Here are some interesting gems for that New Year's celebration. Watch out for Polish Vodka and raw rum. Keep away from Polish White Spirit Vodka. It is the strongest drink sold commercially. A "hangover" is due to toxic congeners such as amyl alcohol. The longest distance for a champagne cork to fly from an untreated and unheated bottle 4 feet from level ground is 94 feet. It happened in California, August 25, 1973.

The Library will be closed December 31 and January 1 — all day. If the old year seems to find you in a rut and you seem bogged down, the Library Staff would like to use the title of Lilli Palmer's new autobiography as our New Year's Greeting. "Change Lobsters — and Dance."

Eyeglasses

Prices Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission is proposing new rules that would overturn state laws and professional ethics codes that prohibit the advertising of retail prices of eyeglasses.

In an announcement Tuesday, the FTC called for the advertising of prices for all "ophthalmic goods and services," meaning anything related to the care of the eye.

The FTC said advertising the prices for eyeglasses and contact lenses would promote competition and enable consumers to choose more wisely. The proposal came by a day after the FTC filed a complaint against the American Medical Association for prohibiting medical doctors from advertising their services and prices.

Currently, optometrists and ophthalmologists are forbidden from advertising prices in every state, either by local law or their own professional associations' ethics codes, an FTC spokesman said.

In addition, it is unlawful in 24 states for opticians — eyeglass manufacturers — to advertise prices.

LEGAL NOTICE

Pursuant to Ordinance No. 120-75, sealed bids will be received on the basis of a price per gallon by the Director of Public Safety of the City of Circleville, Ohio, at the office of the Mayor, until 12:00 o'clock noon, Monday, January 5, 1976, for furnishing gasoline on an as-if-and-when needed basis for the Police Cruisers and Fire Trucks of the City of Circleville, Ohio, for the fiscal year 1976, beginning on January 1, 1976, and ending on December 31, 1976; according to plans and specifications on file in said office, which specify regular and non-leaded gasoline for Police Cruisers and Fire Trucks. Each bid must contain the full name of every person or company interested in the same, and be accompanied by a bond in the sum of $100.00 to the satisfaction of the Safety Director, or a certified check on bank solvent bank, as a guaranty that if the bid is acceptable, a contract will be entered into and it's performance properly secured. Astronaut Becomes Evangelist

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

A veteran of the longest manned voyage in space, astronaut William R. Pogue, says he wanted a more challenging assignment. So he has turned to Christian evangelism.

He is the latest of several astronauts who have taken up work of a religious nature in the wake of their space experience.

It restored a "proper balance" to his outlook on life, he says.

Pogue, of Houston, Tex., resigned from the space program and joined the staff of High Flight, an evangelistic organization founded in 1972 by another former astronaut, James B. Irwin.

Church Briefs

"Where, O Where, Has Christmas Gone?" will be the theme of the sermon at the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church Sunday.

Students home for the holidays will also be recognized at the morning worship service.

The First Church of Christ in Christian Union, 436 E. Ohio St., will have an Infant Dedication Sunday at the 10:30 a.m. worship service.

Members of the First Baptist Church of Ashville will be guest speakers at both Sunday worship services of the First Baptist Church, according to the Rev. T. Milton Duke.

Frank Hudson will speak at the 10:40 a.m. worship service, and Rudy Caldwell will speak at the 7 p.m. service.

Brother Jack Hedrick will be the special speaker at the Sunday worship service at the Logan Elm Baptist Mission.

Irwin, who has since been on the speaking circuit attesting to faith, says his visit to the moon constituted a "spiritual awakening" for him.

Others have told of similar reactions.

Martin Caidin, science-fiction novelist and acquainted with many of the astronauts, told the American Baptist magazine:

"There has been a tremendous change, very quietly, in the attitude and the lives of the men who have gone to the moon ... where they can see the planet the way God must have seen it."

Noting that it is "strange that only when man left his world could he see it for the first time," Caidin adds: "Most of the men who came back had a spiritual experience."

A recent hint of how it happens came from Wernher von Braun, father of the U.S. rocket and space program, who says the "evidences of a creator are so overwhelming."

Von Braun, who headed U.S. space-rocket development until 1972 when he joined Fairchild Industries in Maryland, said in an interview for the Southern Baptist Radio and Television Commission:

"I just can't envision this whole universe coming into being without something like a divine will. I cannot envision the creation without the concept of a creator."

Pogue, a native of Okeman, Okla., who was one of three crewmen on Skylab 3 which set a record of 84 days in space in 1973, says the mission made him more firmly convinced of spiritual reality.

Irwin, of Colorado Springs, Colo., says of his 1971 moon trip that such an experience "has to make a man truly appreciate the creation of God, the infinite precision with which God controls the Universe."

Former Astronaut Frank Borman,

who was on the first orbit of the moon in 1968 and who now is an aviation executive, has said he saw "evidence that God lives."

Perhaps the late scientist Albert Einstein gave a suggestion of the effect when he wrote:

"The most beautiful and profound emotion we can experience is the sensation of the mystical. It is the source of all true science. He to whom this emotion is a stranger, who can no longer wonder and stand rapt in awe, is as good as dead."

"To know that what is impenetrable to us really exists, manifesting itself in the highest wisdom and the most radiant beauty which our dull faculties can comprehend only in their most primitive forms, this feeling is the center of true religiousness."

And Jesus, when he came out, saw much people, and was moved with compassion toward them, because they were as sheep not having a shepherd: and he began to teach them many things. Mark 6:34

Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and he shall sustain thee: he shall never suffer the righteous to be moved. Psalm 55:22

Food Prices Still Rising, But At Lesser Yearly Rate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retail food prices are still going up but the total increase for the year may be slightly less than the government had expected, Agriculture Department sources say.

Economists have been saying that food prices probably would rise 9 per cent by the end of 1975 against increases of 14.5 per cent in each of the two previous years. Now, according to the sources, the 1975 increase may be held to 8 per cent.

In 1972, before they started soaring, consumer food prices rose 4.5 per cent. One official, who declined to be identified, said that even a slight reduction from the Agriculture Department's prediction would be "something of a victory" for department economists.

In the past, some of the department's estimates on food prices have turned out to be far short of actual increases. The official said if the 8 per cent figure turns out to be accurate, it would do much to improve morale among the economists.

No firm prediction has been made by the department for 1976 food prices, but experts have indicated they might go up at an annual rate of 4 to 5 per cent during the first six months. What happens after that will depend greatly on 1976 harvests.

J. Dawson Ahalt, staff economist for the department, said he could not confirm or deny the report of the food price climb being held to 8 per cent this year. He did indicate, however, that beef and pork prices seem to be declining again in December but that he would have to wait on final figures to be reviewed.

The final figures on 1975 food cost increases are expected to be released after the first of the year.

Preliminary figures for early December show that beef in retail stores averaged $1.49 a pound on an all-cut basis, down from more than $1.51 for the whole month of November. Beef prices were a record $1.61 a pound last July and now have dropped for four consecutive months.

Auto Output Said Low

DETROIT (AP) — Domestic auto output in 1975 fell to its second-lowest level in 14 years, according to industry figures.

The auto companies ended production for 1975 on Tuesday since they shut down during the holidays, and the trade journal Automotive News estimated car production for the year at 6,725,682, down 8 per cent from the depressed 1974 volume of 7,309,763.

The output level was off 30 per cent from the record 9,667,118 cars the industry built in 1973.

Meanwhile, the big four auto companies — General Motors Corp., Chrysler Corp., Ford Motor Co. and American Motors Corp. — will begin the new year with worker layoffs at their highest levels in more than three months. The industry also will have more plants shut to reduce inventory than at any time since last March.

Layoffs on Jan. 5 will affect 92,725 of 701,000 workers, up from 84,800 through Tuesday.

Despite the scheduled plant closings, the industry finished 1975 and is beginning 1976 on a much stronger note than a year ago.

Nostalgia is "in" these days . . . especially at the beginning of a New Year. Everywhere you turn there are reminders of the Roaring Twenties or the Fabulous Fifties. Old-car buffs abound, and fashions reflect the fads of long-ago decades. Music from World War II is played, and television plots center around the depression days of the Thirties. It's all a lot of fun — if you don't take it seriously.

Trouble is, we can't live in the past . . . not this past year, or any other. Bills have to be paid, chores completed, obligations met, and each person has to contribute something to his world or he is wasting his time.

A Christian is able to face life like it is — today! He can meet his obligations to himself and to society with confidence and faith — and he can strengthen that faith each Sunday, by going to church . . . knowing always that the Lord is waiting for him there.

Distress Call Said Possibly A Hoax

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Coast Guard said this morning that radio signals received Thursday night reporting a cabin cruiser in trouble on Lake Erie may have been a hoax.

But a Coast Guard spokesman said a cutter in the area would continue searching, and would be joined by a helicopter if weather permitted. Gale force winds were reported on the lake this morning and nearblizzard conditions before dawn today hampered the search.

The spokesman at Coast Guard regional headquarters here said a radio signal claiming to be from the vessel, which ham radio operators had been monitoring, ceased at 2:20 a.m.

The Federal Communications Commission attempted to obtain a radio fix on the signal and tentatively placed it nearly a hundred miles inland near Zanesville, Ohio, making officials suspect a hoax. The Coast Guard said there was a chance the fix could be wrong and so they were proceeding with the search.

The signals identified the boat in distress only as 25-foot cruiser with Ohio registration. The signals radioed late Thursday that the boat had 10 persons aboard and was taking water. The signals later said the boat's condition had stabilized and that it was no longer taking water.

The Coast Guard could offer no explanation what the vessel might be doing on the lake, which is frozen in places. The signals reported it was near Pelee Island in Canadian waters. The Coast Guard buoy tender Mariposa, a 180-foot cutter, reached the area early today, but reported no sign of the vessel.

A 44-foot Coast Guard launch from Marblehead at the tip of Sandusky Bay in Ohio was also set out for the area, but turned back when it ran into ice several inches thick and poor visibility.

The Coast Guard spokesman said the major problem in communications was that the signal was being sent in Morse code through a ham operator in Chicago. Ham operators in Cleveland and other cities reported hearing the signals, as did the Mariposa.

The spokesman said the person sending the messages was apparently "not too proficient" at Morse code and many of the messages were coming through garbled.

The Coast Guard said the vessel's registration number, received from the garbled transmissions, was incomplete, and that efforts to identify the boat had been unsuccessful.

The first report of the distress signal was received about 4 p.m. Thursday, the Coast Guard spokesman said.

A Coast Guard helicopter from Detroit searched the area Thursday night and reported sighting something which might have been the vessel, but was forced to head back because of poor weather.

Model A Coupe Fine Transportation

CINCINNATI (AP) — Otto Geyer has gotten only one traffic ticket since he bought his present car.

"The judge let me off when he heard what kind of a car I drive and how I take care of it, so it turned out fine," said the 80-year-old former stockroom keeper.

Geyer gets where he needs to go in a Model A Ford standard coupe that he bought in 1930.

He can't recall whether he paid $300 or $350 for the car, but either way, he's gotten his money's worth. He guesses he's driven it 300,000 to 400,000 miles.

The car is not fancy. It lacks a radio ("It would take my mind off driving") and a heater ("I always open a window because I prefer fresh air.")

And there's no rumble seat ("You'd be pestered with kids wanting to ride in it.")

The original color of the car was blue. Geyer said he never had the paint touched until two years ago when a car painting outfit changed it to turquoise.

The car's beautiful veneer was spoiled recently when the car fell off a lift while being serviced.

Another casualty was the theft a month ago of the cover on the rear wheel, which rides behind and sticks out in the open.

He avoided additional damage by not having his wife drive the car.

Geyer recalled that he once tried to teach his wife to drive.

"She giggled too much," he said.

There was the night years ago, he said, when he let his wife drive the car from the Walnut Street Garage.

"She drove right out into Walnut Street and never looked in either direction," he recalled. "Thank God there wasn't any traffic."

The Model A is not his first car. Geyer said he bought a Ford roadster about 1929 and parked it one day while he went to a show.

"When I came out of the show, the roadster was gone," he said. "It was stolen and never showed up. Didn't have insurance either."

Set Transport Department

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Six state agencies would be consolidated into a single Indiana department of transportation in July, 1977, if a bill filed Tuesday by State Rep. Robert E. Hayes, D-Columbus, is adopted.

Hayes is chairman of the transportation subcommittee of the House Judiciary and Governmental Reorganization Committee.

The representative said the governor would appoint a secretary of transportation who, in turn, would appoint five deputies. They would be in charge of administration, highway operations, safety, planning and research, and local and area transportation.

In another action, Rep. Stanley G. Jones, D-West Lafayette, filed a bill which would set up a state loan program for college students.

Jones noted the late Gov. Roger D. Branigin suspended a loan program in 1967 because he felt it duplicated a federal program. But Jones said the situation has changed because banks are reluctant to loan money to students without established credit.

Nation's Holiday Road Toll Rises

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The death toll on the nation's highways continued to rise early today as much of the country enjoyed a four-day Christmas holiday.

As of 6 a.m. EST today, 135 persons were reported dead in traffic accidents.

The tabulation of fatalities by The Associated Press began at 6 p.m. local time Wednesday and ends at midnight Sunday.

The National Safety Council predicted that an estimated 440 to 500 persons will die during the period.

In 1974, a one-day holiday, 204 persons were killed. In 1973, the last four-day observance of Christmas, 520 persons died.

Fall Of Vietnam Top Story Of 1975

By The Associated Press
The Fall of Vietnam and Cambodia has been voted the top news story of 1975.

In their annual Top Ten poll, editors and news directors of Associated Press member newspapers and radio and TV stations decided that the second most important story of the year was the attempts to assassinate President Ford. The capture of Patricia Hearst placed third in the voting.

The fall of Vietnam and Cambodia last spring headed the Top Ten list with 3,629 votes. There were 2,850 votes for the two assassination attempts in September against Ford. Miss Hearst's capture, also in September, was close behind with 2,805 votes. Her kidnapping had been the fourth on the list of top news stories last year.

The Watergate scandal was the top story of 1974. This year, the editors and news directors placed Watergate aftermath stories seventh, with 1,351 votes.

Only one other story on the 1974 Top Ten list also appeared again this year. It was the economy, fifth with 2,511 votes this year and second in 1974. The Indochina fighting in 1974, a year after American involvement had ended, was not among the Top Ten stories last year.

The Top Ten stories of 1975, in the order of their selection, were:

1. The fall of Vietnam and Cambodia (3,629 votes).
2. The two assassination attempts against President Ford (2,850).
3. The capture of Patty Hearst (2,805).
4. The New York City fiscal crisis (2,524).
5. The American economy — inflation, recession and the start of recovery (2,511).
6. Cambodia's capture of the container ship Mayaguez in May and the use of American military force to free her (1,703).

NOW THERE'S MORE INFORMATION ON YOUR ELECTRIC BILL It's a law!

- (1) THIS BILL INCLUDES $8.68 FUEL CHARGE, (2) AT A RATE OF $.009944 PER KWH
- (3) WHICH IS $.000165 PER KWH LESS THAN LAST MONTH.

New information is being included on the electric bills of Columbus and Southern's customers starting with their December bill.

Since the cost of fuel used to produce electricity has become a significant part of the price of electricity, the State of Ohio recently passed a law which requires that three new items regarding fuel charges be shown on customers' monthly electric bills.

- 1) The total cost of fuel which is included in each customer's bill
- 2) The fuel charge for each kilowatt hour
- 3) The difference between the present and previous month's fuel charge on a per kilowatt hour basis

These three items replace the fuel adjustment factor which has been shown on the customer's bill for several years. That fuel adjustment factor only indicated the cost of fuel above a basic rate.

The new items will show customers the cost of fuel in their own electric bill and indicate if that cost is higher or lower than the previous month.

Since our method of reflecting fuel costs will change with the December billing, it will not be possible to make a meaningful comparison between the fuel costs shown on the customer's previous bills with that shown on the December bill.

Look for this information in your next bill for electric service!

Willie's Dillies

By BILL MCGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

Now that Christmas is over—and we certainly hope that everyone had a “Merry One”—we can now look forward to the coming of the New Year and all the good things it will have on tap for us.

It is the time of year that we begin to make resolutions—which always seem the hardest thing to keep—and have wishes and plans that we all hope come true to make each year just a little better than the previous one.

Being on the sport scene there are several things we would like to see happen to the coaches and schools in Pickaway County that would give them some additional help in 1976.

Wouldn't it be nice if coach John Glanton walked out on the football practice field at Westfall and found 50 or 60 gridders battling for a berth—It would even be a greater help if the smaller lineman weighed in at 200 pounds and the backs had the type speed that made the Indy 500 look like a bunch of guys out for a Sunday drive.

We would also like to see coach Mike Eckle come up with a bunch of shooters that would keep the athletic department busy replacing scorched nets.

At Logan Elm, we'd like to see coach Perry Griffith come up with a slate that would completely “chew up” the Mid State. And our feeling would be nothing but merry if the Logan Elm cagers really came through for coach Asa Bradbury.

And wouldn't it be nice if the Teays Valley Vikings continued to ring the victory bell for coach Dick Kidwell. We like to see Bob Hoover come up with a team that turned out to be a “real mover”—It probably wouldn't hurt Bob's feeling if he ran across another Dale Lambert.

We'd like to see things keep “brewing and stewing” for the head Cook—Larry that is—and have his Tigers wipe the plate clean.

A couple of 6-foot-6 cagers would keep Tiger cage coach Jim Bailey happy as a lark and smiling daily.

And a boy who was able to do a nine-second sprint would be the fondest dream of Tiger track coach Jim Lint.

But one thing for sure—We wish all the schools nothing but the best in their athletic endeavors in the coming year—And to everyone in Pickaway County—and everywhere else—“May you always walk with the wind at your back.”

Our “fearless” forecast—The Tigers will hold off the Vikings' usual late rally—The Braves will edge the Mustangs in a barn burner.

Until next time, have a nice day-be a good sport.

Texas, Colorado Duel In Bowl

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If Marty Akins' knee is achin'.... Not only does Marty's framework hinge on his banged-up right knee, but so, it seems, does Texas' offense as the Longhorns head into Saturday's Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl against the Colorado Buffaloes.

“Both Texas and Colorado are great teams,” says Barry Switzer, whose Oklahoma Sooners have played both. “It should be a very interesting game, especially if Akins is able to play and is at full speed.” Both finished at 9-2.

Akins, Texas' quarterback, won't know if he'll be calling the signals until game time, 2:35 p.m., CST, in Houston's Astrodome. Originally, Coach Darrell Royal said freshman Tex Constanzo would be at quarterback. But then he changed signals and said he'd reserve his decision until just before the kickoff.

The Longhorns, co-winners of the Southwest Conference, will have more than one quarterback to worry about. Besides Akins' condition, they've got to contain Colorado's high-powered offensive game, led by David Williams. “Their quarterback is quality,” Royal says. “He is a good passer and a good runner.”

The Buffs are sky-high for their meeting with Texas. “Oh, man, are we ready for this game!” said Colorado wingback Billy Waddy. “Texas is such a big name in football. There's no doubt we'll be up for this game.”

The game is the first of the day's two ovals. The Pelican Bowl, between South Carolina State and Southern University in New Orleans' Superdome, starts at 8:30 p.m., EST.

The spate of big bowl games got underway today with the Sun Bowl in El Paso, Tex., featuring Pittsburgh and Kansas, and the Fiesta Bowl in Tempe, Ariz., with Arizona State going against Nebraska.

On Monday night, Florida goes against Maryland in the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla., then the action gets hot and heavy. Tuesday, New Year's Eve, it's North Carolina State vs. West Virginia in Atlanta's Peach Bowl, followed by the Superdome Revisited...Penn State and Alabama in the Sugar Bowl.

On New Year's Day, its UCLA vs. Ohio State in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.; Georgia against Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas and Oklahoma vs. Michigan in the Orange Bowl.

The Pelican Bowl is a test of two defense-oriented teams. South Carolina State, champion of the Mid-East Atlantic Conference, is 8-1-1 and Southern, co-champion of the Southwestern Athletic Conference, is 8-3.

“Our squad has really worked hard and I know our fellows will give us a good effort,” says S.C. State Coach Willie Jeffries. “If we can minimize our mistakes, we have a chance to win.”

Pro Picker Sees Bengals Win In Upset

NEW YORK (AP) — And a ho, ho, ho to you too.

That's not Santa Claus doing the chuckling. It's the Cincinnati Bengals, laughing up their sleeves and set to spring a major upset in this weekend's opening round of the National Football League playoffs.

All four home teams are favored by about a touchdown in their first round games. Minnesota and Los Angeles in the National Conference and Pittsburgh and Oakland in the American have earned the home field advantage by posting the best records in the regular season. And those records also have made them first round favorites. Three of the four favorites, Minnesota, Pittsburgh and Los Angeles, will come through. For Oakland, however, the rest of the playoffs will be viewed from long distance.

The Bengals have beaten Oakland once already this season although the Raiders will tell you that a drenching rain made that result meaningless. Don't you believe it.

Minnesota retreated from the frozen tundra they call home to prepare for the Dallas game in the more temperate climate of Tulsa, Okla. The Vikings are better suited to the cold than the Cowboys, who weren't supposed to be in the playoffs when the season began and won't be when Minnesota gets done with them.

The Cinderella Colts have had their fling but Pittsburgh's very precise Steelers will turn Baltimore's carriage back into a pumpkin. That's okay, though. The Colts came light years farther than anyone could have expected.

Los Angeles is hurting and St. Louis is hungry. That combination could add up to another upset, except that the Ram defense is healthy and it may very well be the best in the league. That's bad news for the Cards, who depend on their offense to win ball games.

Last week's record was 8-5, running the season's log to 129-53 for .709. The picks:

National Conference
Los Angeles 14, St. Louis 10

The Rams are hurting, especially on offense. Quarterback James Harris has a bruised shoulder and running back Lawrence McCutcheon is nursing a sore leg muscle. But the defense is healthy and that's where Los Angeles wins its games.

The Rams gave up only three touchdowns in their last six games and a mere 135 points, lowest total in the NFC. That proud defense will carry the limping offense past St. Louis.

Minnesota 20, Dallas 10

The Vikings ruled the NFC Central again for the seventh time in the last eight years and started the season with a racewrecking 10 straight victories. They split their last four games but don't worry about that. They're ready for the playoffs and anxious for a third straight trip to the Super Bowl.

Fran Tarkenton operates an offense that includes the NFC's best all-purpose back, Chuck Foreman.

Roger Staubach runs the Cowboys and he'll have his hand full with Minnesota defenders like Alan Page and Carl Eller up front and Paul Krause keying the secondary.

American Conference
Pittsburgh 27, Baltimore 13

The Colts bring a nine-game winning streak into this one, their first playoff appearance since 1971. That is one of the keys. The Steelers, making a fourth straight post season appearance, are playoff-toughened. They also happen to be the defending Super Bowl champs.

Baltimore specializes in wide open games and Terry Bradshaw, Franco Harris and the Steeler offense should take advantage of that for plenty of points. Getting them back from that Steel Curtain defense will be no easy task for Bert Jones, Lydell Mitchell and the rest of the Colt offense.

Cincinnati 21, Oakland 17

The difference here could be the absence of Tony Cline, Oakland's best defensive lineman. That means the Raiders will use a three-man line against the Bengals and that could be suicide.

With a reduced pass rush to worry about, Ken Anderson will have plenty of time to find his receivers. He's the AFC passing champion, so you know he can throw the ball.

The Raiders have been sluggish all year and have a history of playoff failure looking over their shoulders. The elements are there for the Bengals to score the upset.

Tigers, Vikes Set For County Clash

They will be hanging from the rafters Saturday night at Mill St. Gym to witness the county clash between Teays Valley and Circleville.

Past records and performances go out the window when these two teams meet and the fans who will stuff the gym as full as three-pound of meat in a two-pound bag.

Teays Valley will be going into the fray with a season mark of 4-3 and a record of 3-2 in Metropolitan League play.

Circleville will be putting their 6-0 overall record on the line against the visiting Vikings. The Tigers are also leading the South Central Ohio League with a mark of 5-0.

On offense, the Vikings are ripping the cords at a 70.8 point average per game and have been a tremendous last quarter team.

The Tigers of Circleville have been averaging a total of 67 points per game and have shown consistency.

Teays Valley's defense has been yielding an average of 65 markers per contest while the Circleville cagers have been giving up an average 50.2 points a game.

Both teams have three cagers listed in the top 10 scorers in the county.

For Circleville it is Biff Bumgarner averaging 19 points per contest to lead the county scoring, George Moore is in third place with an average of 15.8 and Mike McCoy holds sixth spot in the scoring with a 14.8 average.

Teays Valley's scorers are Jeff Cauer in second place with an average 16.1, Tim Tosca is in fourth place with a game average of 15.4 and Terry Trego is eighth with 11.4 per game.

Teays Valley is an explosive team with an established reputation to apply pressure and come from behind in the late stages,” Circleville coach Jim Bailey commented.

“They are a good fast-breaking team and we anticipate plenty of aggressive, exciting action. We are looking forward to a clean, hard-fought game as this is a good rivalry.”

Starters for Circleville will be: Mike McCoy and Frank Merrill at the guards, George Moore at center with Biff Bumgarner and Brent Mancini at the forwards. Warren Yamarick is the sixth starter with Tom Taylor and Rusty Holbrook and Jeff Williams applying strength on the inside.

Teays Valley has been getting good scoring from Rusty Rathburn, Dave Schiff, Jeff Cauer, Tim Tosca, Terry Trego, Mike Johnson and Charles Morrison. Coach Bob Hoover's starting lineup will probably come from these seven.

The reserve game will start at 6:30 p.m. with the varsity clash getting underway at approximately 8 p.m.

Anderson Unworried By Gripes

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati Bengals quarterback Ken Anderson isn't worried about the constantly levelled complaints that he isn't allowed to call his own plays.

His open-faced attitude continues to be: “So what, as long as we win?”

Anderson and Coach Paul Brown get asked constantly about the Bengals policy of calling the plays from the sidelines.

“How do I justify it,” Brown says. “In terms of the record is the best way. Why is it that every team in football signals the defensive plays from the bench and no one questions it?”

“I hope fewer and fewer do it, but actually more and more are turning to it.”

“I make no apologies for it, and don't intend to justify it. I stand on what we do, and our players believe in it.”

Actually Brown explained that his quarterback has plenty of leeway. “He audibles often, calling the play at the scrimmage line,” Brown said. “We have always encouraged it and Ken now has the experience to change the play we send in any time the defensive formation is stacked solidly against it.”

“He changes plays probably eight or 10 times a game. One game, I remember he made 16 changes.”

Actually, Brown usually merely approves a play which is conceived in advance by a coach in the press box booth.

Most plays are called by Coach Bill Walsh, who consults with offensive coaches Jack Donaldson and Bill Johnson.

Holiday Festival Cage Tilts Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — The Holiday Festival Basketball Tournament features a distinct New York accent tonight in first-round games at Madison Square Garden.

St. John's, the nation's 17th-ranked team from New York, faces Temple in the opening game and South Carolina, coached by New York native Frank McGuire, plays Villanova.

Lou Carnesecca's unbeaten Redmen, playing in this affair for the 18th time, are favored to win their bracket and reach Monday night's finals against pre-tournament favorite Indiana.

The Hoosiers, the nation's top-ranked team, played Columbia and St. Bonaventure faced Manhattan in an afternoon doubleheader.

Although St. John's loomed as the finalist against mighty Indiana, Carnesecca was not counting his holiday blessings prematurely.

"I learned a long time ago from Coach McGuire that in basketball, you have to be afraid of your mother," said Carnesecca. "Already they've got us against Indiana, but Temple and South Carolina aren't playing with bee-bees. If they want us to play Indiana in the finals, I'd be happy to comply with that wish."

The Redmen boast the nation's second best all-time winning record and are joined by St. Bonaventure, Indiana, Villanova and Temple among the nation's top 25 all-time victors. They're fresh from a sweep of their own Joe Lapchick Memorial Tournament and the Brigham Young Classic and their triumphs this year include an impressive victory over Tennessee.

"I know Louie," said McGuire, onetime St. John's coach who's had extravagant success in the South after leaving New York. "He was my old second baseman and third-base coach at St. John's. He's very cute, Louie. He knows how to recruit. He's never caught without a ballplayer. He has them in the ice box."

Some of those players on St. John's beautifully balanced team include Beaver Smith, Glen Williams, George Johnson and Frank Alagia, one of the best playmakers in the East.

"He's the guy the other guys try to get," says Carnesecca of Alagia. "He's our quarterback and runs our offense. And generally he's being chased and double-teamed by bigger, stronger players. But he does the job."

McGuire's team also includes a classy guard in Jackie Gilloon, a flashy New Yorker. The Gamecocks, who won their own Carolina Classic this week, are also powered by a veteran cast that features Alex English, Mike Dunleavy, Bob Mathias and Mark Grenier.

Arizona State Faces Nebraska

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — Arizona State's football team has shown a propensity for offense this year, but perhaps the Sun Devils haven't met a foe quite like Big Eight power Nebraska.

In today's matchup in the Fiesta Bowl, unbeaten, seventh-rated Arizona State faced a Cornhusker team that had permitted just 120 points to 11 foes — and that included 35 to Oklahoma in Nebraska's only defeat.

"They're so strong up front that they mainly rely on their down people," said Arizona State's co-captain, Jim Heilig. "They don't have to blitz as much as a lot of people. Therefore, they don't."

The simple philosophy worked well during the regular season, when Nebraska's top four defensive linemen combined for 226 tackles. And the Huskers' superb linebacker, Cletus Picken, added 123 tackles himself.

The sixth-ranked Cornhuskers featured a strong, solid front, headed by tackle Mike Fultz, 6 feet 5 and 275 pounds; middle guard John Lee, 6-1, 248; defensive end Bob Martin, 6-1, 208, and Ray Phillips, 6-4, 225.

Arizona State averaged 33 points per game in winning all 11 of its regular season games. Fullback Freddie Williams was the big man, rushing for 1,316 yards and nine touchdowns.

Nebraska, meanwhile, averaged 406 yards and 32.1 points per game in the regular season. It's quarterback, Vince Ferragamo, started ahead of Steve Bartkowski when both were at California two years ago.

This fifth Fiesta Bowl became one of the nation's most attractive bowl games when the Arizona State-Nebraska matchup was made.

Nebraska lost the Big Eight title to Oklahoma in that season-ending 35-10 defeat. The Sooners went to the Orange Bowl, and since all other major bowls were already filled, the best spot left open for Nebraska was here.

Arizona State got in automatically as Western Athletic Conference champion.

The game was nationally televised by CBS, following the Sun Bowl.

Drug Helps Monkey Arteries

CHICAGO (AP) — Hardening of the Arteries in monkeys can be dramatically reversed with a drug, cholestyramine, now used for other medical purposes, a University of Chicago research team has demonstrated.

Monkeys are commonly used as models for humans in atherosclerosis (hardening of the arteries) experiments.

The National Heart and Lung Institute is now initiating a nationwide test of the drug. The study will utilize human subjects judged at risk for future heart attacks, said Dr. Robert W. Wissler.

Cholestyramine is now used to remove cholesterol-derived bile salts and acids from the gastro-intestinal tract of gallstone victims.

It's a mirror image of what used to be.

Once it was the Baltimore Colts who were the Super Bowl champions, battling to maintain their image as kings of the National Football League.

And once it was the Pittsburgh Steelers who were shrugging off a losing image and emerging as hungry, young challengers.

Now it's the other way around—and on Saturday, the Colts, written off as a herd of losers before the season began, try to take another giant step toward an impossible dream which the Steelers realized one year ago. Now it's the Steelers who are defending their crown, opening the American Conference playoffs.

In Sunday's other AFC showdown it's Cincinnati at Oakland. In the National Conference games, St. Louis is at Los Angeles on Saturday and Dallas visits Minnesota on Sunday.

"Trying to stay on top is the true test," says Chuck Noll, once an assistant at Baltimore when the Colts were kings of the hill and now head coach of the Steelers. "Some people have a strange picture. They think you reach a level and just stay there. They don't realize it's a heck of a job week after week, season after season."

In 1971, the Steelers won their first division title in four decades. They've been in the playoffs ever since. For the Colts, 1971 was a turning point—the other way around. That was their last year in the playoffs. The next season, and the two after that, they wound up with losing records.

But from last year's 2-12, they've rocketed to 10-4 and are riding a nine-game winning streak that gave them the East Division title. "They're well-peopled," says Noll. "They have exceptional personnel. A physical team."

The same can be said of the Steelers, who won their third AFC Central title in four seasons with a 12-2 record. The Steelers had won 11 in a row until they lost their regular-season finale at Los Angeles.

"I think we'll use the loss in the positive vein," says defensive tackle Joe Greene. "We always bounce back after a loss."

Each team has a superb quarterback and a powerhouse running back.

Bert Jones calls Baltimore's signals while Terry Bradshaw does the job for Pittsburgh. And a pair of former Penn State stars go against each other in the backfields, Lydell Mitchell of the Colts and Franco Harris of the Steelers. Mitchell became Baltimore's first 1,000-yard rusher ever this season while Harris surpassed the 1,000-yard mark for the third time in four seasons.

Since Cincinnati has had trouble all year establishing a ground game, and has been so effective riding quarterback Ken Anderson's aeriels, Oakland's task would seem to be a simple one—and that's exactly how a couple of the Raiders see it.

"We've got to get some long drives going and keep the ball away from Anderson and his bunch," observes quarterback Ken Stabler. And cornerback Willie Brown adds: "Once we can stop the pass, everything will fall in place for us."

Each team finished at 11-3 but the Bengals, finishing behind the Steelers, had to settle for the AFC's wild card while the Raiders breezed to their West Division title.

The game is the only one involving teams which faced each other during the season. The Bengals won 14-10, but it was played in a driving rainstorm that negated any meaning as pertains to the upcoming matchup.

"You can't base anything on that game," says Stabler. "I don't want to speak for Anderson, but I know I was terrible that day. I gave up four interceptions and so did he." Stabler completed eight of 24 passes, Anderson hit on four of 19.

The Rams are hurting—but not on defense, which was instrumental in carrying the team to the NFC West title with a 12-2 record. Quarterback James Harris is nursing a bad shoulder and running back Lawrence McCutcheon, the team's leading rusher, has a pulled calf muscle. And Los Angeles already has lost two other running backs, Jim Bertelsen due to knee surgery and John Cappelletti with mononucleosis.

Cornelius Greene Wins Coveted Silver Football

CHICAGO (AP) — Ohio State's Cornelius Greene is the 1975 winner of the Silver Football award presented annually by the Chicago Tribune to the Big Ten conference's most valuable football player.

The award was announced in Christmas Day editions of the Tribune. Greene finished ahead of Michigan's Gordon Bell but really had a tougher challenge in getting the vote of his teammates to be nominated for the Silver Football.

The Cardinals, on the other hand, are healthy. Jim Hart quarterbacks the St. Louis "bomb squad" headed by speedy Mel Gray, all-purpose running back Terry Metcalf and power runner Jim Otis, the NFC's leading rusher.

The Cowboys won the NFC's wild card with a 10-4 record while the Vikings went 12-2 to take the Central Division title with ease.

"Minnesota probably has even more talent this year because the young players have come through," says

Dallas Coach Tom Landry. "It's as solid as the recent Viking Super Bowl teams."

And Coach Bud Grant of the Vikings returns the compliment. "They've moved the ball on everybody in the league," he says. "On defense, they don't use a lot of variations, but they're very sound."

Third baseman Pete Rose of the Cincinnati Reds made 10 hits in the 1975 World Series and batted .370.

Gambling Tables Busy On Holiday

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Grandma has foregone the kitchen for the gambling table on Christmas Day in Nevada.

"They do come out gaming," said Tom Schacht, a keno supervisor at Harold's Club, one of the largest casinos in the state. "The whole family comes, grandmother, father, mother and the older kids."

Nevadans say the state's 24 hour-a-day, 365-days-a-year gambling industry never comes to a stop. If it ever does, a reporter's walking tour between 9 and 10 a.m. Thursday indicates the yuletide holiday isn't when it happens.

At Harrah's, blackjack players took up every one of the half-dozen or more seats on the rim of a couple of dealer's tables. At least every fifth slot machine was in use. Outside along the sidewalk in front of Reno's casino fronts the ring of the jackpot bell was persistent. So was the clink of more coins dropping.

Schacht, who has worked in the state's gaming houses for 22 years, said Christmas Days once were quiet. But he said the last four or five years have been busy and says people don't feel the stigma about gambling on Christmas that they did 20 years ago.

Schacht and fellow keno supervisor Carl Remero say customers are more jovial and better tippers on Christmas Day.

"They're more willing to buy drinks for each other," Romero said.

A shiny pot from a tea service sat on a tray on one of the green-covered blackjack tables in the Money Tree Casino, where a customer seated on a bar stool was having a leisurely breakfast.

Slot department manager Al Bushgens said some of the steady customers contribute to the warm feeling in a casino on Christmas Day. Depending on the economy, the weather and other factors, holiday business is often very good. Inexpensive meals and big-name entertainment bring out some customers, he said.

5 Dead On Holiday

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP) — A widow, her three children and a male friend were found slain in a rural home here in what police believe may be a murder-suicide.

The bodies of the five, all with a bullet in the head, were found Thursday morning by the widow's parents, who came to their daughter's house in East Vincent Township to help open Christmas presents.

The home is about 25 miles west of Philadelphia near historic Valley Forge Park.

The victims were identified by State Police as: Nicholas J. Foresta, 48, of Phoenixville; Judith Saneck, 34, whom neighbors described as quiet; and her children, Michael, 12, Joleen, 9, and Joselyn, 7.

State Police said the bodies of Mrs. Saneck and Foresta were on the living room floor. He had a pistol in his right hand. The children were shot as they slept in their bedrooms.

Trooper Edward Gallen of the state police said investigators believe Foresta shot the widow and her children and then turned the gun on himself.

"That's the way it looks," he said. "Now we have to prove it."

Police noted, however, that Mrs. Saneck's car, which normally would have been parked by the side of the house, was missing.

College Grants Said Exhausted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio instructional grants have been exhausted for the 1975-76 academic year, says James A. Norton, chancellor of the Board of Regents.

Norton said $21.3 million worth of the state financial aid has been distributed and $800,000 has been transferred from next year's account to meet current needs.

Since demand has been outstripping funds, applicants from the $11,000 to $17,000 annual income bracket will not be notified of next year's awards until the time for applications expires Aug. 13, Norton said. No funds will be available for diploma schools of nursing.

Be A Better Shopper

When you make up your list of resolutions for the new year why not add "I will be a better shopper in 1976?" Taking time to shop more carefully will save you money and make shopping more enjoyable.

Here is a list of resolutions to consider:

- I will plan menus for the week before I go to the supermarket.
- I will make a shopping list and follow it closely.
- I will read labels carefully to make sure I'm getting the most nutritional value for my money.
- I will buy fresh produce when it is in season.
- I will buy private label brands whenever possible because they are usually cheaper.
- I will consider the price per serving when buying meat because this takes into account the amount of fat and bone which can't be eaten.
- I will try to do more cooking and baking from "scratch."
- I will read advertisements carefully, look for unadvertised specials and clip coupons for extra savings.
- I will store my food purchases quickly and properly to insure freshness and top quality.

With a little extra effort you can cut some food costs and make shopping easier in 1976.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SATURDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Don't be overly aggressive now. Hassles, useless, time-consuming disputes could mar the day. Keep your head above such troubling waters.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): You may gain more ground than many now, but also be held back on occasion because others are feeling more pressure, opposition. Try to understand.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Influences suggest precautions against needless errors, intemperate acts and thinking. Stress your innate common sense and your amenability.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Single-handedly, you can institute improvement in many areas, bolster self-confidence in others, tie up loose ends. Minor matters may tend to irritate. Don't let them.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Keep travel and entertainment plans flexible. Some last-minute changes are possible, but accept them graciously. Don't argue pointlessly.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): A day in which to emphasize stick-to-itiveness. Curb an inclination to take off on unprofitable tangents through sheer boredom.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Use all of your innate judiciousness in putting forth original ideas, in trying to remedy unsatisfactory conditions. Don't let discussions become disputes.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): This could be a somewhat erratic day unless you steer a steady course. Above all, avoid discussions which could upset associates.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Make time count. Whether handling large or small matters, don't let nonessentials get in the way of steady progress. Personal relationships highly favored.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Without realizing it, you may be a victim of your own fears and misgivings. Pull yourself together. This is a day which calls for clear thought and definitive action — and self-confidence.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Your intuition sharp now — especially in money matters. An early morning decision in this connection will prove correct.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Don't listen to what others say when you have good reason to believe the source is questionable. Stress your good judgment and objectivity.

YOU BORN TODAY are a happy combination of the studies and the practical. Your business acumen is outstanding and yet, withal, you have exceptionally strong leanings toward the scholarly and the intellectual; may have, too, a religious bent or, on another plane, a deep affinity for the occult. Science is another of your fortes and your patience in research and meticulousness in handling details could lead you to great success in this field. The law is also an area in which you could shine and, if you can curb your strong tendencies toward introspection and stress the outgoing side of your nature, you could do well in the theater. City Of Akron Spruces Up 5 Neighborhoods In Program

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The City of Akron is sprucing up five neighborhoods in a three-year, $22 million community development program which offers low or no cost improvements to homeowners.

"I didn't know so many things needed to be done," said Genevieve Repasky. "I'm fortunate to have the help."

Three Men Appear In Court

Three men appeared on criminal charges Wednesday in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court.

Lyle Welsh pleaded guilty to receiving stolen property and was sentenced by Judge William Ammer to a term of six months to five years at the Ohio State Reformatory for Men at Mansfield. The court then suspended the prison term and placed Welsh on probation for three years.

The court also suspended the prison term assigned to James Campbell, South Bloomingville. Campbell was indicted by the first session of the September Grand Jury and later pleaded guilty to forgery. Judge Ammer suspended a 1-5 year term at the Ohio State Penitentiary and placed Campbell on probation for three years.

Kenneth Lemaster appeared before the court and changed his plea from not guilty to guilty to a charge of sexual battery. The court ordered him to undergo examination by three private psychiatrists.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rain was expected to change to snow over the state and accumulate one to two inches by this evening.

A travelers' advisory was in effect for northwest and west central Ohio, where additional accumulation of two to four inches of snow was forecast. A low pressure center over western Kentucky early this morning was to move northeastward across Ohio into northwestern Pennsylvania early this afternoon.

Rain fell over all of Ohio except the northwest sections Thursday night. Snow became heavier in the northwest early this morning and new accumulations of around four inches were dumped in the extreme northwest. A little over an inch of rain fell in Marietta.

Not much rise in temperatures was expected during the day, and after the low moves past, cold air streaming in will drop temperatures into the 20s in the north and into the 30s in the southeast today.

Mrs. Repasky is one of the first to take advantage of the city's offer. Work on her home includes a new bathroom, kitchen cabinets, repainted house trim, new eaves and spouting, and repairs to the porch, steps, driveway and chimney.

It isn't costing her a cent. The city is footing the $4,958 bill.

William Threatt, who is directing the project for the city, said the program is funded through the 1974 Federal Housing and Community Development Act and the city's 1975 community development program.

A few blocks away, Mrs. Walter Christopher was equally pleased with a $5,000 grant that's paying for most of the repairs to her home. She added her money to the work because "it was such a good deal."

Both women told similar stories about how they became involved in the program. It is designed to preserve and upgrade the housing in five community development rehabilitation areas designated by the city.

First step in each neighborhood is a meeting to explain the program where residents learn how housing inspections are conducted, the availability of grants and low-interest rehabilitation loans.

A housing inspector visited Mrs. Repasky's home, itemized the defective or substandard items and submitted the necessary repairs for bids.

Mrs. Repasky had final say on the repairs and materials used. The area office supervised the work and gave Mrs. Repasky a copy of the specifications and bid book.

Fire Department Makes Two Holiday Calls

The Circleville Fire Department made one run late Christmas Eve and another one on Christmas Day but neither of the two fires reported were serious.

At 11:58 p.m. Wednesday firemen dispatched to 1134 John St. A fuse had blown on a service pole at that address. Minor damage was estimated.

Firemen then dispatched Thursday at 1:30 p.m. to 421 S. Court St., Pickaway Boys' Home. There, they found a fire between the floor joists.

A plumber had been at the address the day before thawing pipes and possibly the heat from that work had caused the fire. Minor damages were reported there too.

Initial Benefit Claims Jump

Administrator Albert G. Giles of the Ohio Bureau of Employment Services announced today that the number of claimants among jobless Ohioans filing initial claims for unemployment benefits took another jump for the week ending December 20.

Giles said the number of initial claims under all state and federal programs totaled 32,635, a 7.1 increase over the previous week when the figure was 30,468.

Included in last week's total were 23,529 initial claimants under the regular Ohio Law, a 10.1 per cent increase over the prior week. Giles explained that nearly 800 of the claims were due to lack-of-orders layoffs in the steel industry.

Other subtotals under initial claims were Title 5 (government employees and ex-servicemen) 543; Special Unemployment Assistance (SUA) 165; Extended SUA 57; Extended Regular (EB) 3,633; Extended Emergency (FSB) 2,755; Additional Emergency (AFSB) 1,953.

OBES estimated the continued claims for those unemployed one or more weeks under all benefit programs at 240,500, a slight one-half of one per cent increase.

Estimated other subtotals under continued claims were Ohio Law 139,500, a 1.6 per cent increase; Title 5 — 6,500; SUA 3,100; Extended Regular 41,100; Extended Emergency 34,200; Additional Emergency 15,500.

Jobless Ohioans receiving unemployment benefits under all programs were estimated at 273,135, a .9 per cent increase over the preceding week. Total number of claimants exhausting their benefits for the week ending December 13 was 9,766 under all programs.
